Community Workshop

Wednesday, January 14, 2015

6:30 PM to 8:00 PM

Boys and Girls Club,
Discovery Room

(Spanish translation will be available)

Sonoma County Regional Parks will host a community workshop to gather input for “re-visioning” and updating the Maxwell Farms Regional Park Master Plan. The workshop is the first step in the process toward modernizing the park and developing new amenities, facilities and programs based on the current and future needs of the community. Please join us and participate in the discussion and share your ideas for the future of this important and centrally located community park.

The public is also invited to provide input by completing an online community survey available through the following links:

English: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/s/maxwellparksurvey>

Spanish: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/s/encuestasobreparquemaxwell>

Anticipated Project Timeline:

December - February 2015: Programming and defining the scope of the Master Plan update project. Identification of the issues and community needs through a public workshop, online survey and various stakeholder interviews.

March – April 2015: Development of plan alternatives and traffic impact study. Plan alternatives will be reviewed at a second public meeting. Date and time TBD.

May - June 2015: Preparation and presentation of draft preferred plan

June – September 2015: Address public comments and initiate environmental review and CEQA documentation.

October 2015: Finalize Master Plan amendment and CEQA document for approval by the Board of Supervisors.
